A friendly Yorkshire lass passionate about Physics, languages and the academic experience. I have fresh ideas, a great sense of humour and relevant experiences, such as head student and public speaking, through which I've built valuable interpersonal skills, like leadership and communication, as well as gained insight into education. Super excited for the opportunity to represent you all and make changes that you want!!

Please come talk to me if you want to know more about what I'd like to do, or even if you just want to chat! ☺ ☺
