

Mehru Syed

for Biological Sciences (UG)

Academic Representative

A bit about me:

- From Monifieth, Scotland.
- Biology horror story: I panicked when I saw/ met Katalin Kariko and ran away :(
- On the right is my fav Bio-themed photo I have in my gallery!

Why me?

- Involved in/ ran societies ranging from Eco-club, MUN, Latin club; developed a variety of skills; I have become rather good at stress-management and using Excel at every given opportunity for organisation.
- School captain (2025 – 2026); managed more than 60 prefects; acted as a bridge between the student body and the senior management; raised concerns ranging from pupil wellbeing, to providing prefects with coffee at school events; and always sent out a Microsoft Form before planning an event to take into account pupil voice!
- I enjoy a good yap and can talk to pretty much anyone and will try my absolute best to solve any problems you might have.

Aims and Objectives:

- As a fresher, it might be daunting to raise concerns; I hope to empower my fellow first years and foster positive relationships between everyone in the department.
- Stress is a part of Imperial; help anyone who might be struggling – either through simply listening or helping them find appropriate support.
- Initiate more (and regular) student feedback; it doesn't matter how silly!
- Ensure action is taken promptly regarding issues with assignments, exams or anything academic.
- Taking initiative for first years to mingle with second, third and even postgraduate students, who first years may not speak to otherwise – it can be immensely useful to start networking early in your degree.
